INTRODUCTION:

History information says that the first man began to build his home from straw, paper, plant residues and animal skins with the aim of providing a safe shelter, then moved to building walls without roofs in a primitive way, until he started using stone, and with him the imagination and human creativity began in construction and that was in the year 10,000 In the year BC, the most important and most advanced and innovative forms of architecture were the temples that were built at that time and included shrines, walls, towering obelisks, and huge stone statues.

Construction operations developed in the twentieth century and adopted new concepts when the number of people increased and the desire to share real estate appeared instead of relying on one building or house for each person or family. New engineers and scientists in this field to meet the energy and ability to develop these buildings, support their survival, and find the necessary development for their spread in the world from the United States of America and then the West. Years passed and the Middle East began constructing towers and buildings until the United Arab Emirates became the owner of the tallest tower in the world (Burj Khalifa) and became the first building nation in the world. Hence, Art Design Engineering Consulting Company was born from the country of architecture and in order to put its mark on the ground with the best experts, engineers and engineering consultants with high efficiency, putting it in the hands of its clients with confidence, efficiency and creativity.
